

Senior Consultant

• Agricultural inputs • Equity opportunity

We are looking for a talented senior consultant who enjoys the agribusiness market but would prefer to work in a small business, preferably one he or she owns.

You need an excellent understanding of the agricultural inputs market with management experience. This might be in crop protection, animal health, fertilisers or machinery.

Specific experience in market analysis, market research, strategic planning and/or staff recruiting would be particularly valuable. Good computer skills are mandatory.

Obviously you will be an independent self-starter who can identify and pursue business opportunities. You will also be comfortable with a fluctuating income based on your ability to bring in business.

There is an opportunity to acquire equity in the business ultimately leading to full ownership.

If you think this is worth exploring call David Leyonhjelm for a confidential discussion.
